

World Championship in Public Speaking winners and finalists share tips for success at the 100th Tristar Toastmasters gathering

Over 300 Toastmasters in the UAE joined members of the Tristar Toastmasters Club to celebrate their 100th meeting by listening to five inspirational speakers who flew in to share some tips on how to become better listeners, better speakers, better leaders and ultimately world champions. They were led by 1995 World Championship of Public Speaking (WCPS) winner Mark Brown from the US, 2011 WCPS second-place winner Kwong Yue Yang from China, 2016 WCPS finalist Kaishika Rodrigo from Sri Lanka, 2017 WCPS finalist Saveen Hedge from India, and sought-after public speaker in Humor in Communication Chendil Kumar from India.
